2026 FEMALE WAVE OF CHANGE GLOBAL CONFERENCE

4th Edition : NAIROBI - KENYA

Executive Summary

The Female Wave of Change Global Conference 2026 will convene on 17–18 September 2026 in Nairobi under the theme: “Empowering Generations to Elevate Humanity: Unleashing Your Potential as an Authentic Feminine Leader.” The conference is being organized in Kenya by Female Wave of Change in partnership with Polycom Development Project and other strategic stakeholders committed to advancing women’s leadership, sustainable development, and inclusive social transformation. The gathering will bring together women leaders, policymakers, development practitioners, youth, academia, civil society, private sector actors, and grassroots communities from across the globe to empower women, exchange ideas, build partnerships, and co-create practical solutions to today’s most pressing social and development challenges.

Held at a time when communities worldwide continue to grapple with inequality, climate vulnerability, economic instability, conflict, and growing mental health concerns, the conference seeks to position authentic feminine leadership as a catalyst for sustainable change. Particular emphasis will be placed on amplifying women’s voices in peacebuilding, governance, economic empowerment, climate action, education, digital transformation, and community resilience. The conference also aims to strengthen intergenerational leadership by creating meaningful spaces for youth engagement, innovation, and mentorship while fostering stronger collaboration between grassroots actors and global platforms.

The conference will adopt a dynamic and interactive methodology, including keynote addresses, high-level plenary discussions, thematic panels, exhibitions, storytelling forums, networking sessions, cultural experiences, and a Global Conference celebrating transformational leadership and impact. Expected outcomes include strengthened international partnerships, increased visibility for women-led initiatives, enhanced knowledge exchange, and the development of the Nairobi FWOC Declaration to guide collective action beyond the conference. Ultimately, the conference seeks to inspire bold leadership, deepen solidarity across generations and regions, and contribute toward a more inclusive, peaceful, and equitable global future.
